

Building Your Capacity

Many people settle for very less than God's best and the enemy makes them think that they are not the type that can do great things. They look at their background, their academic qualification, their physical appearance and they conclude that they indeed will be making a big mistake if they attempt anything great.

Through this book, you will be inspired to dream big and to look at yourself in a different angle. You will discover you have all it takes to become what God has called you to be and through this book, you will have the boldness to reject the old you that is defeated and feeble and embrace the new you that is victorious, strong and focused. You will be inspired to start small and have the boldness to grow your vision steadily and influence the territory God has assigned you.

As you open and read every page and chapter of this book, you will be introduced to new possibilities and realities and you will be challenged to continually unleash your potential one day at a time as you boldly but humbly climb the ladder of impact.

About the Author

Peter Odhiambo is a minister with a mandate to equip the saints for the works of service and to see them grow in knowledge and attain to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ. His vision is to see the body of Christ grow into perfection.
